BEAUTY PIE

Where all the smart people shop for beauty products now

The beauty industry has spent decades leading people to believe that good skincare costs 10x more than it should. At BEAUTY PIE, we don't think that's fair.

We make our products in the same world-class labs as other luxury beauty brands – but without all the luxury beauty markups. So everyone can access the really good stuff for a lot less.

Our retail teams are the face of the brand, guiding customers through our exceptional formulations and showing them a better, fairer way to shop for beauty in person.

We're looking for passionate team members to join us on the shop floor. If you love high-performance skincare and want to help customers access world class beauty without the markup, we want to hear from you.
